Teacher's Notes:

The pictures each indicate a story setting. Talk about the one you choose, and generate some vocabulary. (You could write this on the board for the children to note in their books, and/or include it in your classroom picture dictionary.)

The pictures come from www.collaborationclipart.com that produces free clipart for teachers, so you might want to check out their website.

Also added to each picture is a suggestion of a person (or creature) that is showing some feeling.

Ask the children to add to and complete the person/creature and picture, and colour it.

Then move on to a story plan etc.
